The movement for change

Refugee
support

At Refugee Support Europe, we believe in the transformative power of dignity, solidarity and community. Founded in response to global crises, we have grown into a movement that provides dignified support in times of urgent need while advocating for systemic change. Our Dignity Centres have become havens of hope for displaced people, offering essential supplies as well as a chance to reclaim agency and rebuild lives.

Our Ambassador Programme is an opportunity for long-term RSE supporters to be part of a growing movement for change — whether you have the passion to advocate, the creativity to fundraise or the skills to contribute on an ad hoc basis.

Our Ambassadors are Advocates, Fundraising Champions or Assets, forming a network that is reshaping the narrative around displacement and proving that small, collective actions can drive monumental change. They stand with us in co-creating a world where everyone can live with dignity.

The Ambassador Programme is in pilot phase, and currently open by invitation only.

Advocate: The voice for change

Role Summary

Advocates are the storytellers and changemakers who champion the mission and values of Refugee Support Europe. Whether speaking at public events, hosting workshops or using social media to spread the word, Advocates amplify the voices of displaced people and call for systemic change. We particularly encourage people with lived experience of migration to apply.

What Advocates do

- Raise awareness: Represent RSE at events, talks and community gatherings, educating others about our work, the challenges faced by displaced people, and the need for systemic change — from approaches to asylum to border policies, anti-racism and refugee rights.
- Inspire action: Lead or support campaigns that encourage others to stand in solidarity with displaced communities.
- Advocate for change: Work alongside us to push for policy shifts and public discourse rooted in dignity and compassion, towards a future where what happens in our Dignity Centres is the norm in wider society.
- Engage online: Use social media to share stories, updates and calls to action, building a network of supporters and allies.

What they gain

- A platform to advocate for human rights and dignity.
- Training, support and resources to enhance advocacy skills.
- A chance to be part of a growing community of changemakers.

The fundraising champion

Role Summary

Fundraising Ambassadors are trailblazers who transform their passion into tangible support for our work. Through creative events, campaigns and community engagement, Ambassadors ensure we have the resources to meet urgent needs and sustain our Dignity Centres.

What Fundraisers do

- Fundraise creatively: Organise events, campaigns and activities to generate support for our projects.
- Engage local communities: Build connections with individuals, businesses and organisations to increase awareness and financial contributions.
- Promote campaigns: Champion our fundraising initiatives, inspiring others to donate.
- Represent our mission: Be a spokesperson for RSE, sharing how every contribution transforms lives.

What they gain

- The skills to lead successful fundraising initiatives.
- Resources and guidance from our team to maximise impact.
- Directly contributing to a movement that changes lives.

Asset: The skilled supporter

Role Summary

Assets bring their unique skills and expertise to support RSE's work on an ad hoc basis. From photography and videography to translation, HR, IT, interviewing volunteers or other specialist skills, you provide vital support that enhances the impact of our projects.

What Assets do

- Offer expertise: Provide specific skills to address RSE's immediate needs.
- Ready to help: Respond to ad hoc requests for assistance based on your availability and expertise.
- Collaborate remotely or locally: Work with our team either online or on the ground, depending on the project and role.
- Contribute to special projects: Join task forces or short-term initiatives.

What they gain

- A chance to directly apply your talents to a cause that matters.
- Flexibility to support us in ways that fit your schedule.
- Recognition for your invaluable contributions to a growing movement.

Our shared vision and values

Vision Statement

We envision a world where communities welcome displaced people with dignity, solidarity and compassion. Our ultimate goal is to create a future where our support is no longer needed because society has embraced a culture of inclusion and care.

Our Values and Guiding Principles

Dignity

"You are valid and valued."

We believe everyone is born free and equal, worthy of honour and respect. Our dignity-first approach ensures that every individual is treated as a person with agency, not as a statistic or a burden.

Solidarity

"You are supported and uplifted."

We stand alongside displaced people, bearing witness to their challenges. Solidarity means looking across, never down. It's about building authentic relationships and working together to challenge injustice and create change.

Community

"You are seen and heard."

We are better together. Our strength comes from acknowledging our compassion, empathy and collective power. Community means creating spaces where everyone feels welcome, heard and empowered to contribute.
